

An Overview Dimension Statement Of WeSH, The Intention Of Its Design, And Logic-Ethos

Kevin A. Sensenig Draft 1.05 2026 July 20 - 2026 August 29

WeSH – this facility – is a PA State Institution, to be a dimension treatment place and institution, of clarity and value and virtue and advanced state of the art treatment modalities – and multimodal dimension realism totality treatment by a multidisciplinary multirole team, staff, and leadership! – with and for and in context of society, the patient-client individuals, the staff, culture(s), realism, and state. This real place, worlds and worlds intersecting worlds, boundless; and the potential, realism, dimension, and value it is in fact in many ways. This is the 85 percent staff and program that is invaluable in its ethos and effect. There are things yet – the 15 percent anti-rights anti-realism biogenetic theory and practices – to enhance and replace, to implement and re-implement with dimension, dynamism, structure and flexibility as is true, and realism.

This is an ideal grounded in realism from a multifaceted multivariate view and set of views. Theory and praxis should follow. Significant elements integrative spell this out, in PA State law and rights, Federal Law and rights, dimension and realism praxis, WeSH ethos statements, and significant elements of WeSH policy. These elements, this document and the others in the kas Transformative Justice Portfolio, and the diverse resources available in the connected wellbeing field, point to a profound, deep, expansive, dimension, realism, rights-aware framework for each and all roles, concentrative, descriptive, enunciated approaches and theory and praxis, and is likely the best of all possible, acknowledging the real world and its benefits, problems, truths, boundless state(s), and dimension.
